EWASS 2017: Second Announcement

We are pleased to inform you that the detailed preliminary programme of the European Week of Astronomy and Space Science (EWASS) 2017 has been proposed and will be available online soon. Please check the list of session and general programme of the conference here.

The programme of EWASS 2017 is very rich with 16 Symposia and 21 Special Sessions spanning a wide range of scientific topics. You can expect about 700 oral presentations, as well as 600 posters. In addition, there will be following plenary talks:

- Alena and Petr Hadrava – History of Astronomy in the Czech Lands
- Guillem Anglada-Escude – Proxima b and the search for life beyond the Solar System
- Anthony G. A. Brown – First science harvest from the Gaia sky
- Richard Wünsch – Formation of stars and star clusters
- Norbert Werner – Chemical Enrichment of Clusters of Galaxies and Large-Scale Structure of the Universe
- Arvind Parmar – ESA Report
- Rob Ivison – ESO Report

As well as plenary lectures by Prize winners:

- Bernard Delabre – Tycho Brahe Prize
- Bengt Gustafsson – Lodewijk Woltjer Lecture
- Selma E. de Mink – MERAC prize in Theoretical Astrophysics
- Kevin Schawinski – MERAC prize in Observational Astrophysics
- Emmanuel Hugot – MERAC Prize in New Technologies

The EWASS 2017 will be held at Faculty of Law of Charles University in Prague, from 26 June to 30 June 2017.

Already more than 800 scientists have shown their interest to attend the conference. Do not miss the chance to participate in one of the most important events of Astronomy and Space Science in Europe. Early registration closes on 28 April.

In addition to the scientific programme, we propose a set of exciting social events such as the Welcome Reception and the Conference Dinner following a classical concert, and a guided tour of Prague. You can also choose from interesting excursions such as Cesky Krumlov, one of the UNESCO sites.

We hope to welcome you in Prague and are looking forward to receiving your registration.

With best regards,

Thierry Courvoisier (EAS President) – Cyril Ron (EHC Chair)
