

Benefits of Organizational Membership of EAS

Described for three different sub-categories of organizational member

March 2013

(General=[G], Newsletter=[N], EWASS conference=[E]):

1. EAS Organizational Affiliates

Yearly contribution to EAS: at least 1000€

- [G] EAS web page listing, including logo, link, and short description of the organization or company
- [G] Free placing of two Job advertisements per year (now free for all, but in future only free for members)
- [G] One free nominated EAS membership (within the limits of the EAS constitution¹)
- [N] Short article (half page) presenting organization/company in the EAS Newsletter (once, new members only)
- [E] One free registration at yearly EWASS
- [E] Discounted rate for exhibition space at yearly EWASS conference.
- [E] Mention of new organizational members by EAS president during the opening ceremony of the yearly EWASS conference

2. EAS Organizational Sponsors

Yearly contribution to EAS: at least 2000€

Benefits include, in addition to those enjoyed by Organisational Affiliates:

- [G] Free placing of a total of five job advertisements per year (now free for all, but in future only free for members)
- [G] One free nominated EAS membership for every 2000 euro/year contributed to the EAS
- [N] Possibility to provide additional visibility in or with the EAS Newsletter (such as advertisement, added flyer, etc.; at cost price).
- [E] One free registration at yearly EWASS for every 2000 euro/year contributed to the EAS
- [E] Opportunity to include company flyers in EWASS registration packages (at cost price)
- [E] Mention of new organizational members by EAS president, and show company logo, during the opening ceremony of the yearly EWASS conference
- [E] Invitation (one person per Organizational Sponsor) to EAS reception during the EWASS conference. Other invitees may include EAS President and council members, MERAC council members, current prize winners, past Tycho Brahe prize winners and Lodewijk Woltjer lecturers, key invited plenary speakers.

¹ The EAS constitution states 'Persons who have shown by their contribution to science, by their professional activity or otherwise, to Council's satisfaction, that they can further the cause and objectives of the Society, may become ordinary Members of the Society'

3. EAS Organizational Patrons

Yearly contribution to EAS: at least 5000€

Benefits include, in addition to those enjoyed by Organizational Sponsors:

- [G] Unlimited free placing of Job advertisements (now free for all, but in future only free for members)
- [G] One free nominated EAS membership for every 2000 euro/year contributed to the EAS (maximum 5 free memberships)
- [E] One free registration at yearly EWASS for every 2000 euro/year contributed to the EAS (maximum 5 free registrations)
- [E] Free standard-size exhibition space at EWASS
- [E] Possibility of giving short presentation during EWASS conference, possibly in a suitably themed special parallel session (once, new Patrons only)
- [E] Invitation (two persons per organizational patron) to EAS reception during the EWASS conference. Other invitees may include EAS President and council members, MERAC council members, current prize winners, past Tycho Brahe prize winners and Lodewijk Woltjer lecturers, key invited plenary speakers.